

WESLEYAN LEAVES FOR PHILADELPHIA

Where University of Pennsylvania Will Be Played on the Franklin Field Saturday.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM) BUCKHANNON, Nov. 23.—Wesleyan's football team, composed of seventeen players, Coaches Neale and Kellison and Graduate Manager Stansbury, left for Philadelphia at 2:15 this afternoon via the Baltimore and Ohio. The team will have supper at Grafton and occupy a special Pullman sleeper out of that place at 10 o'clock tonight. Philadelphia will be reached at 10:35 o'clock Friday morning and that afternoon a light workout will be held on Franklin Field, probably the most famous athletic field in the world.

Contrary to expectations Wesleyan did not leave any of its Varsity men at home except Captain Miller and Vance, neither of whom were expected to go. It had been thought that probably Calac and Beck would stay behind but they did not. Those making the trip included Morrison, Blake, Bradley, Shumaker, Harris, Calac, Beck, Jacobs, Fisher, Ross, Clark, Tschappat, Roberts, Neale, Allen, Singleton and Henryetta.

The team will return here Sunday at noon, making a quick trip from Philadelphia and Monday and Tuesday will be devoted to polishing off the offense for the West Virginia University game. No practice will be held next Wednesday on account of the team going to Fairmont on that day. Yesterday's was the last scrimmage of the year as no heavy work will be attempted on Monday or Tuesday.

The Manager.

I had a little pug,
The scrappiest ever seen;
He fought with all comers,
And knocked 'em out clean;
He was a good card,
He won lots of kale,
And of the mazuma
I soon had a bale;
He was a good boy,
He fought all the time,
And when he was hungry
I gave him a dime.

The football hero who is now being manhandled, mauled, maimed, mashed and mutilated without a murmur of complaint will, a few years hence, let out an awful roar when he stubs his toe on a chair while giving baby his midnight walk.

Sam says he went to South America with a couple of trunks full of glad rags, but came back in a pair of trunks.

In the East twenty years ago tonight, when he lost to Bob Armstrong, the clever colored fighter, in a six round battle in Philadelphia. The big Australian fought once after that in San Francisco, when Joe Butler stopped him in the first round. He then hit the trail for the Yukon and staked out a claim, traveling 600 miles by dog team to Skagway to record the claim. While in Alaska he took part in several pugilistic contests, one of them being with Frank Gotch, later heavyweight wrestling champion of the world. Gotch was a novice at boxing, and Slavin sept him down several times in the early rounds. Frank then got excited and grabbed Slavin with a wrestling hold and tossed him in the air as if he had been an infant. Slavin was given the decision on a foul, but Gotch was the hero of the camp. Slavin was born in Australia, where he started fighting, and he was a great man in his prime. He beat Charlie Mitchell, Jake Kilrain and other good men, but was whipped by Peter Jackson, the great Australian negro fighter.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Delicious Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

Forty Years of Football.
American intercollegiate football was born in the Massasoit House in Springfield, Mass., forty years ago today, November 23, 1876, when the modified Rugby code which forms the basis of the present rules was formulated and adopted by delegates from Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia.

Association football was played by Princeton, Rutgers, Yale and Columbia, the collegiate pioneers of American football, in the early '70s, but each college had its own set of rules up to 1873, when the Princeton, Yale and Rutgers teams agreed on a common code. Harvard had a peculiar combination of Association and Rugby up to 1874, when the Crimson squad adopted straight English Rugby for a game with the McGill University team of Montreal. The Cambridge fans liked the English game so well that it was adopted by Harvard, and in 1875 Harvard challenged Yale to a game of Rugby. The Elis refused to adopt straight Rugby, but a compromise was effected, and the first of the Harvard-Yale contests was played under what were called the "Concessionary" code, Harvard winning.

Princeton took the lead in the movement for the formation of an intercollegiate football league, and the result was the Springfield convention of 1876, which was attended by delegates from Princeton, Columbia, Harvard and Yale. The rules adopted were based on those of the Rugby game, but several changes were made, and since then the football code has been subject to annual revision.

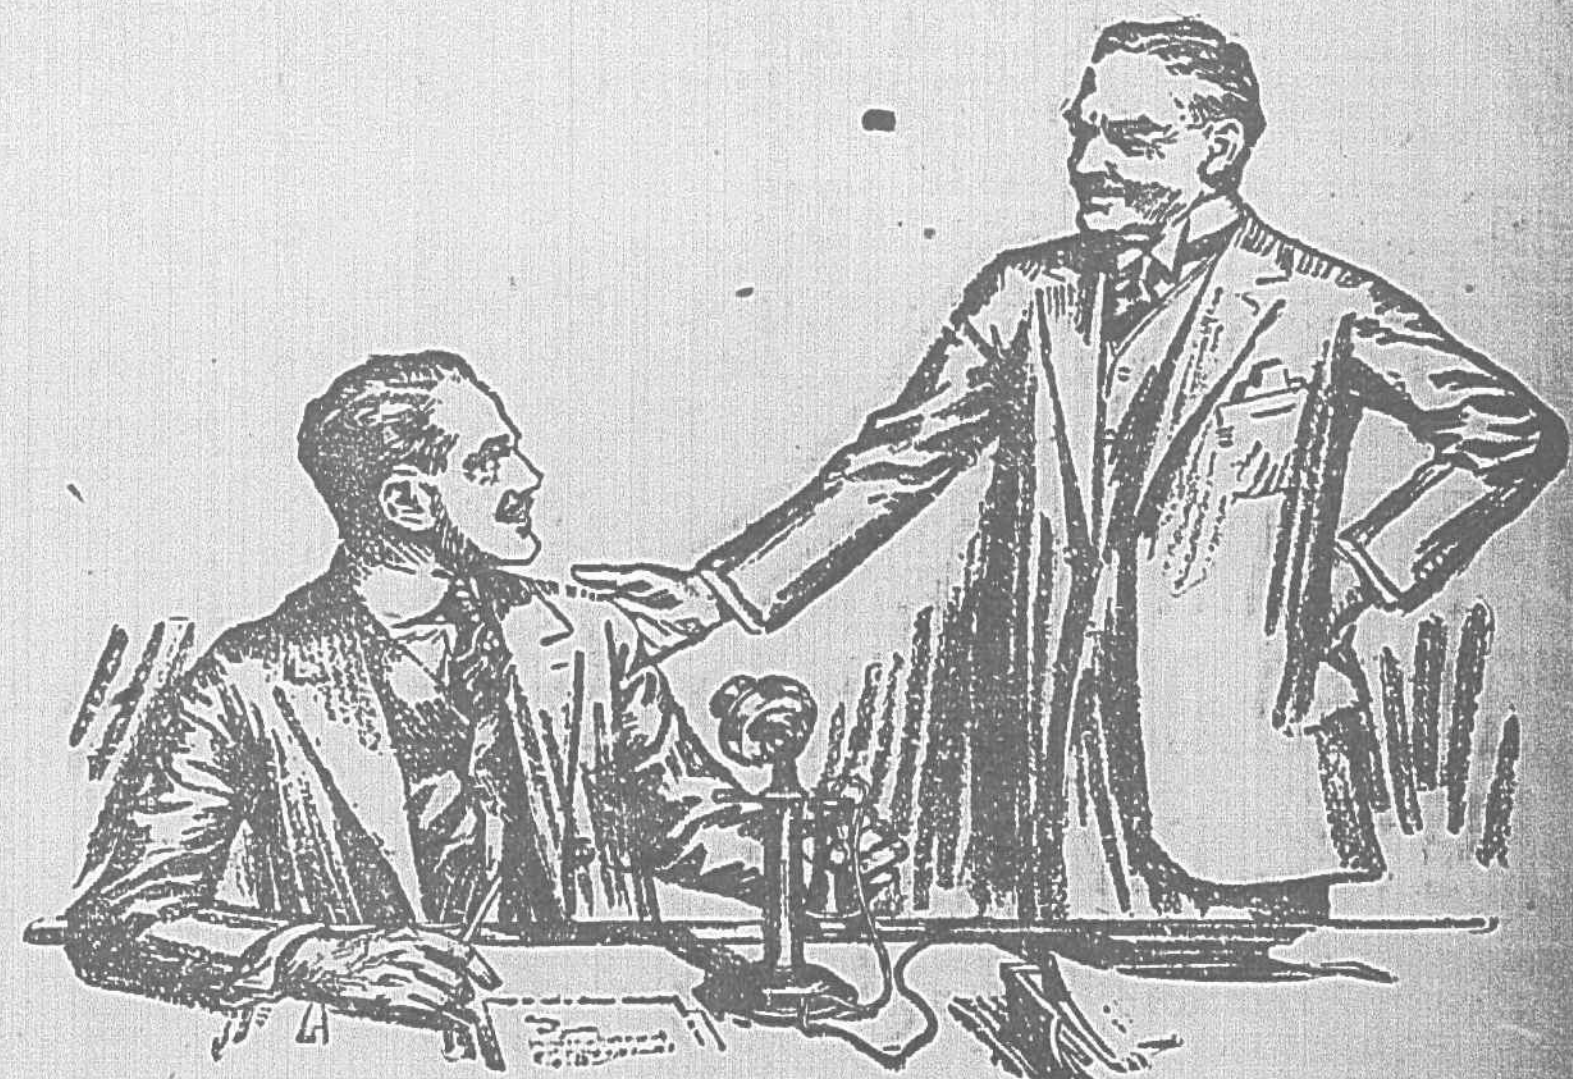

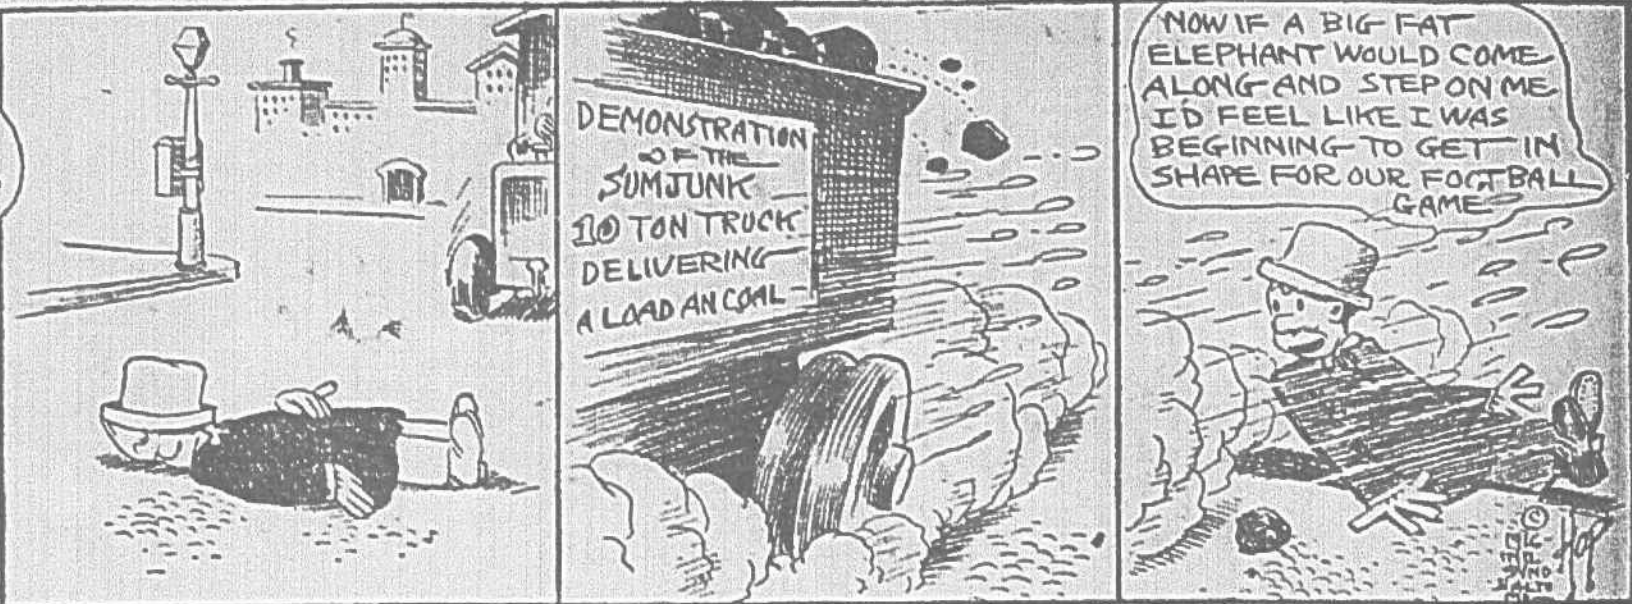

In the original rules it was provided—

WILLIAM S. JACOBS.

Jacobs is a back field man at Wesleyan and played an important part in last year's Turkey day game. "Bill," as he is better known to all his many friends and admirers, is a senior at Wesleyan and if he plays in the annual Turkey day game next Thursday he will be his last game of football. "Bill" played on the high school team before coming to Wesleyan. He is a Clarksburg boy.

HOUSE SHORTAGE

In Various Places in Norway Makes Very Serious Prospects for the Winter.

(Correspondence of Associated Press) CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Nov. 23.—Shortage of available dwelling-houses, with still more serious prospects for the winter, is reported from various places in Norway. In certain districts city authorities have resorted to extreme measures to provide shelter for those unable to find houses. The city council of Bergen has begun to expropriate unoccupied houses, but the number of these is inadequate. The aldermen of Trondheim have requested authorization to expropriate not only vacant houses, but also club rooms and similar localities. The Christiania authorities are considering the expropriation and use as dwellings of taverns and even places devoted to religious gatherings.

As a result of some recent experiments, it is asserted that a good grade of paper can be made from grape vines.
